Father conducts a course in Religion for the Seniors and also teaches catechism to the grammar grades. In addition to his teaching schedule. Father also serves as Assistant Pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

Father comes to us from Ireland, where he was born. He spent six years in Carlow, Ireland, where he studied for the priesthood. Following ordination, he came to Bay St. Louis.

Junior, Senior Confraternity Groups Review Year, Plan Future Activities

Activity keynotes the Confraternity of the Sacred Heart this year at S.S.C. Under the leadership of energetic officers headed by Luis Ingles, President of the Senior Division, and Donald Smith, President of the Junior Division, the organization has accomplished may note worthy porjects since the beginning of the school year.

Several year-wide spiritual activties have been adopted by the Confraternity. Among these are the monthly hour of reparation sponsored by the Senior Confraternity, and the semi-monthly Confraternity Group Mass sponsored by the Junior Confraternity. The group also purchases fresh flowers for the altars each First Friday of the month.

Recently membership cards have been obtained by the Confraternity. These cards serve for identification purposes and as a reminder of the obligations and privileges of the members of the organization.

One of the major activities of the group this year is the publication of its monthly bulletin Confraternity Notes. This publication is aimed at keeping the student body and friends posted on its latest projects.

All dances held during the year have been and will continue to be conducted under the sponsorship of the Confraternity. The Homecoming and Christmas dances particularly received their special attention as members went all out to make them a success.

During this month the organization sponsored a Christmas card sale. The group was working under the direction of the Brothers' Mothers Club. This latter organization is made up of the mothers of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart who reside in the New Orleans area.

In keeping with the spiritual objectives of the Confraternity, members voted to have spiritual bouquet cards printed which will be presented to their parents as a Christmas gift.

The Confraternity is tentatively planning projects to be accomplished during the months following the holidays. Among these will be the annual talent show to be held sometime in March.

Morning Offering intention cards will be posted on the classroom bulletin boards beginning in January.

Members also plan to set the example in generously supporting the mission drive during the Lenten Season to assure its success.

Doc Blanchard, Former Grid Great, Makes Hall Of Fa me

Former days of football glory at St. Stanislaus were recalled to many in a recent A.P. dispatch reporting that Felix A. Blanchard, known to the pig skin world as "Doc" was inducted into the Football Hall of Fame on the Rutgers University Campus.

Doc entered St. Stanislaus in September, 1938, and was graduated in June, 1942.

The record shows his home as Bishopville, South Carolina. During that time he led the Rock-A-Chaws to the Gulf Coast Championship and an invitation to the New Orleans Toy Bowl, the equivalent of an interstate championship affair between Louisiana and Mississippi's outstanding teams. Although Stanislaus did not win the game, Blanchard covered himself with glory by his remarkable playing.

Blanchard learned the rudiments of football during his four years at St. Stanislaus. One of the most famous All-Americans of all time, Blanchard reached immortal heights in gridiron history as fullback for the Army Cadets.

Brother Hugh Journeys To Louisville Convention

Brother Hugh represented the school at the convention of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The convention was held in Louisville, Kentucky on November 30 through December 3.

The purposes of this Association are mainly the strengthing of College and Secondary Schools relations, and the evaluation of Schools.

Governor LeRoy Collins of Florida and Dr. George Heaton of Charlotte, North Carolina were among the prominent speakers at the convention.

Xmas Dance Last Night Begins Holiday Vacation

Holiday excitement and enthusiasm pervaded the Christmas dance held last night in the S.S.C. gym.

Candle-lit tables, colorful decorations, and a large elaborately decorated tree which slowly revolved to the tune of a Christmas carol created an attractive holiday atmosphere.

At the social, a private party, couples were admitted by tickets which were available only to the S.S.C. students.

Popular songs, old favorites, and holiday music were provided for the evening by the Red Counts of Jackson, Mississippi.

Pen and Pencils Away! Holidays Begin Today

Whether you are going to New York, Havana, Chicago, San Juan, New Orleans, or remaining at Bay St. Louis, Christmas vacation begins today here at S.S.C.

The campus is ringing with excitement and anticipation— within a few hours many of us will be leaving to spend Christmas with our families.

Season's Greetings

Ingles, Senior Class President, Is Chosen Leader of The Month

Luis Ingles is the first student to be listed among our leaders this year. Luis received this honor because of the sincerity, willingness and leadership he brings to everything he does.

President of the Senior Division of the Confraternity of the Sacred Heart, President of his Senior Class and President of the Altar Boy Society, Luis' talents seem to be limitless.

He proved an invaluable guard during football season, and is presently showing his worth in basketball as first string forward. The track team also claims him as a member.

Participating in the Dramatic Club, helping on yearbook staff, and editing the monthly publication Confraternity Notes, does not interfere with his scholastic record as evidenced by his placing in the upper third of this class.

Coming to St. Stanislaus in 1954, Luis has been a boarder for the past six years. During this time he played yard league and varsity sports, served as an altar boy, was elected President of his Junior Class, and readily took any and all "odd-jobs" that came his way.

Luis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Ingles of La Cieba, Honduras.

Sidelines Club Social Set For December 21st

Plans are in the making for the annual Christmas Social sponsored by the Sidelines Club. The event will take place on December 21, in the School's dining room.

Among other things discussed at the last meeting of the club, held on November 12, were the arrangements to buy a motion picture camera for use by the football team, next season.

The annual Turkey Shoots, that were held on November 15 and November 22, by the Sidelines Club were reported to have been a grand success and to all who participated in the event the sincere thanks of the school is extended.

Anyone interested in furthering the Athletic Program and the school in general and who would be interested in joining the Sidelines Club, can contact Brother Philip at any time.

What Is True Christmas Spirit?

What is the spirit of Christmas? Is it the warmth of friends, the joy of giving and receiving, the beauty of a tree full of lights, or the Midnight Mass which serves to remind us of the purpose of this holy season?

For most of us it is probably a combination of all these things which make this time of the year something special to look forward to. Some of us, though, seem to forget the real meaning of these days approaching and only look upon them as holidays that will free us from the class room.

Almost every year new slogans appear urging us to revive the true spirit of Christmas. These are timely, but they should not be needed when we know so well our duties this time of year.

Common courtesy should remind us of the meaning and purpose of these days since gratitude would demand that we thank the person who gave us much for which to be joyful.

True Christmas spirit should primarily be centered about the realization of what God has done for us to make this time of the year so special, and not merely a brief and hurried remembrance of his humble birth symbolized by a crib beneath a Christmas tree.

Around the Campus

with Donald Smith

New changes are still continuing to improve the campus. The most recent being the replacing of all overhead electric wires by underground wire installments.

Photos of the student body were received and distributed shortly before the Thanksgiving Holidays. This was the first year the pictures have been produced in color.

Varsity football players recently attended a barbecue given for them by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mashburn of Hammond, Louisiana.

The yearbook staff proudly announced that it has met its first deadline toward the completion of the 1960 issue of the White Cap.

Rock-A-Chaw cagers have begun their basketball season using the new glass backboards which have been installed in the gym. The floor was re-done also by the Brothers during the holidays.

The annual harvest dance sponsored by the seniors of S.J.A. was a big success. The proceeds of the dance will be used to help finance the girls' trip to Washington, D.C. this spring.

Brother Donnan, vocation director of the Brothers, was a recent visitor to the campus. During his visit with us he spoke to the seniors. He will return in February for a more lengthy visit with us.

Judy Brun of S.J.A. and Joe Greco of S.S.C. were the winners of the Sox Hop sponsored by the Junior Confraternity. They were chosen because of the very extraordinary socks they were wearing.

The Christmas spirit was heightened last night by the beautifully lighted tree which decorated the S.S.C. gym during the dance.

A crib was erected by the Brothers in honor of the Infant Savior on the front lawn of the College.

On the 5th of December, the seniors went to New Orleans to take the College Entrance Examination Board Tests. These tests are required for entrance in most private colleges.

On The Downbeat

LeBlanc, Brignac, Hill Attend Clinic

by David Bishop

Albert LeBlanc, Albert Brignac, and George Hill had entered their names for the state clinic that was held in Clarksdale on December 15, 16, and 17.

Last year Stanislaus was represented in Biloxi by Warren Carver, Albert Brignac, and David Bishop. All three placed in the Grey band, which is formed of the most talented contestants attending the clinic.

The band has done its best to be at every game playing and cheering the team to victory. Unfortunately, due to an accident to the bass drum, the band was unable to play for the last two football games. Nonetheless all members were in the stands cheering with the S.S.C. fans.

A small group of the band plan on forming a combo to play at the basketball games and help support the Rock-A-Chaw eagers.

Another New Year — So What!

Tear down the old calendar put up the new one, 1960. So what. This is the thought that often runs through my mind as the New Year approaches. I guess I could sit here and make one resolution after another but why? For by the time January fourth comes, it will be the same old habits again.

You know, though, it wouldn't be a bad idea to turn over a new leaf and really start studying for a change. That would eliminate the possibility of that extra six weeks of school during the summer.

Now that I think about it, an extra visit or Mass during the week wouldn't hurt too much. I know there's no better way to be sure of keeping my resolutions than by getting some help from the Lord.

This might turn out to be a better year than I thought. If I stick with these resolutions, my marks will improve, and that will eliminate these Sunday night study periods. And who knows I may even begin a collection of those little white honor cards.

Well, here goes I have 366 days to try a little harder. By this time next year that old calendar might be a wonderful year to look back on.

Al Fin Ha Llegado Navidad!

por Ricardo Matamoros

Las hojas del calendario estan ya casi deshechas pures no habia quien al pasar el calendario no contara los dias. Unos teniamos nuestros propios calendarios y cada dia que pasaba lo marcabamos. Pero al fin llego el 18 y solo tenemos que entrar al Study Hall y veremos que ha llegado Navidad.

El "Cachiro", el que decia que era muy soltero, parece que ha cambiado de opinion. Desde Homecoming no se ha perdido ningun bailecito y segun nos dicen ha caido en la vil trampa de una mejicana. En fin, algun dia todo cae hasta "Cachiro".

Y con la Navidad a la vuelta de la esquina vemos a todos portandose bien y pidiendole a Santa que les traiga unas cositas: Jose Murillo cuando lo oi estaba muy enojado con Santa por no traerle nada el ano pasado despues de haber gastado todo su dinero comprando papel para escribirle. Al calmarse oi que dijo "Santa, por favor, solo dos pulgadas mas." Juan Solis esta en la lista de pedidores y que pide el? Bueno muchachos, preparense; Don Juan pidio una caja fuerte con doble seguridad para guardar sus periodicos. Que lastima, ahora vamos a tener que pagar cash. Freddie Gruber pide que no lo halle Brother Carlos cuando se esconde en el Cuarto E todas las tardes. Tambien pide un nuevo set de pesas para podernos demostrar su habilidad. Dice que hasta ahora no ha tenido tiempo. Parece que el muchacho nunca tiene tiempo. Jose Miron del Middle Study Hall pide un piano para poderse acompanar cuando canta "sus canciones." El chico tiene talento pues siempre anda componiendo canciones. El mejicano Hernandez pide una banera pues decidio que dormir en una banera es mas comodo especialmente cuando esta puesta el agua. Enrique Diez pide algo simple. Lo unico que pide es que el colegio Dominican se mueva a Bay St. Louis. "Cachiro" pide que bajen el costo del pasaje de Bay St. Louis a Miami y que la National doble chequee sus aviones pues el agua de la bahia esta muy fria y tiene miedo de coger un catarro. Rafael Ortiz: que se le enderecen los piespara que cuando baile no se le metan en el camino. Carlos Lam: que lo inviten a todos los bailes de SJA. Sal Cuadra: un regalo para Juanita Bonita, Jose Diaz: pide una toalla grande para todas esas que lloran por el en los bailes. Eh, Pepe. O. Caceres quiere que le regalen un cierto disco que oyo por primera vez en Hattisburg. (Oh Carol). Ricardo Pastor: que le regalen un grabador para poder grabar todas las coversaciones de Enrique y cierta muchachita. Raul Matamoros: que gane L.S.U. para reirse de Herrera y su socio Solis. Ricardo Matamoros que se me acabe la tinta. J. Odriozola: plata para hacerle un regalo a la francesita. Esto es lo que oi los demas parece que lo hicieron muy secretamente.

Y con esto me despido deseandoles a todos que pacen una feliz pascua y que el proximo ano les traiga a cada uno muchas felicidades. A cualquiera que lea esta columna nosotros los latinos les deciamos felices pascuas.

Christmas-Tide Introduced In Ancient Rome

by Pete Orlin

Although Christmas is celebrated the world over, customs vary great ly from country to country. This is a result of the various religious, social, and economic conditions which affect the people.

Originally Christmas was celebrated by the Roman Christians, who, according to one theory, started the custom to take the place of the pagan celebration of winter. The people decorated trees and had processions when the persecutions were not in effect. After a time, even the pagan began to celebrate

When Rome was conquered by the Germanic tribes, the customs did not die out, rather they were allowed to continue and as a result grew in size and numbers.

During the Protestant revolt, Christmas celebrations were surpressed notably in England and in Germany where the movement was strongest.

In colonial America only Maryland allowed the celebration to take place. Following the Revolutionary War ties with old world customs were broken and the new idea of freedom saw the revival of the Christmas celebration.

Now, almost all people in the Western World celebrate the coming of Christ. In northern United States, snow and cold mark the season, while in the South, it is enjoyed in milder weather. And, in South America, with its reversed seasons, the air is one of carnival.

All of this, then, is Christmas—an ancient custom which never grows old in the hearts of men.

Half Year Marks Memorable Events

by Danny Blanchard

Looking back on the year, so many things have taken place that they are easily forgotten as new one arise to occupy our attention and coversation.

As we think back, homecoming was certainly an eventful day. Our most Reverend Bishop was here to dedicate the new infirmary building, the motorcade to the field was certainly colorful, and the homecoming dance is one we will long remember.

Veterans' Day saw us honoring those who took part in the efforts to an end these international conflicts which seem to go on endlessly.

Brother Bosco's seventh grade class enthroned the Sacred Heart in their classroom. We hope that this will help revive the Enthronement movement, particularly in our homes.

During the football season, the pre-game posters and pep rallies helped perk up our spirit as we went all out to support the Rock-A-Chaws on the gridiron.

At the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new parochial school soon to be built, St. Stanislaus was represented by Brother Hugh who was a guest speaker.

On the last Sunday of October, we paid trbiute to Christ our King as we formed part of the procession which carried Him through the streets of Bay St. Louis.

And just before the Thanksgiving holidays, the turkey shoots down by the stadium, sponsored by the Sidelines Club proved that many of us could have given our forefathers some keen competition.

Looking back now, it's amazing how much was done in the last couple of months. When we stop to think, there are not too many uneventful days here at S.S.C.

Students Choose Hey Little Girl As Number One In School Poll

by Lance Mora

In the first of a series of polls conducted among high school fellows to determine their likes with respect to records, top vote was given to Hey Little Girl. Running a close second was a relatively new record, Secret of Love.

You Got What It Takes rated third and fourth place goes to True Love, by the Drifters. A beautiful instrumental by Santo and Johnny, Teardrop, was rated fifth and Dance With Me, theme song of the stags at the Christmas dance, sixth.

The Drifters now have two records in the top ten.

The Fireflys' You Were Mine climbed into seventh place, followed closely by I've Been Around.

Mister Blue, dedicated to all Trigonometry and Physics scholars, coasted into ninth. For Neil Sedaka fans, O Carol, rounded out the top ten.

Incidentally, Chinese Bandits by Jerry Byrne, just missed the top ten by six votes.

Saint Nicholas Startles Nation

December 25th will be the end of a long countdown for dear old Saint Nicholas. Leaving his launching platform at precisely 1200 hours Greenwich Meridian Time, he will streak a cross the northern wilderness of Canada in his ICBM sled. While doing so, he will probably upset world relations by appearing as a missle sent from Russia.

As he progresses farther south, the Strategic Air Command will be alerted by the men manning the radar station of the Dew, Mid-Canada, and Pine Tree lines. While this is happening, Congress will be called into special session; the army will be readying their Nike batteries; and panic will grip the nation.

When the Old Fellow reaches populated sections, the tension will be relieved. An urgent cry will go out from ground observation stations: "Don't shoot! It's only St. Nick!"

After this, and for the next six months, there will be many rounds of Congressional investigations to find out who is responsible for the fiasco and legislation will be introduced to ban St. Nick.

Fleas, Flies Clash In Annual Classic

Fleas and Flies clashed in the forty-second Flea-Fly Classic Football game held at the Rock-A-Chaw Stadium, Sunday, December 6th.

As the whistle blew for the kick-off more than 100 players prepared to spring into action. The Flies handed the Fleas a 31-15 defeat, as the game drew to a close.

Players were selected from the first, second, and third grades of St. Joseph Academy, and from the yard leagues of St. Stanislaus College. The boys who went out were divided into six team varying in sizes—three fleas, three flies.

The three Fly teams were coached by Brother Edward, Brother Lester, and Mr. Saucier. Assistant coaches were Johnny Gonzales and John French.

Brothers Roger, Marius and Leon coached the Fleas. They were assisted by Danny Blanchard and Brooks DeBuys.

The Flea-Fly Classic was sponsored jointly by St. Stanislaus College and the Knights of Columbus.

The event had its beginning in 1916 when Brother Peter organized the game to help support the annual Christmas Drive held in the city.

Varsity Holds Mighty Aloysius To Tie; Bows To Spirited Lumberjacks

The S. S. C. football season came to a close as the Rocks tied the powerful Aloysius team of New Orleans 7-7, but bowed to the Bogalusa Lumberjacks 20-12.

Rated a two-touchdown underdog, the Rocks battled the St. Aloysius Crusaders to a 7-7 deadlock friday, November 13, in the Stanislaus Stadium. F

The Rocks outplayed the Crusaders from the beginning of the game, but their aerial attack was impotent. They were close to the Aloysius goal several times during the game, but the sensational pass interception by Ronnie on his own 10 yard line and his 90 yard run turned a Crusader threat into a Stanislaus touchdown.

Aloysius was held socreless until the final four minutes of the game when quarterback Paul Reinhardt flipped a short pass to Claude Poirson for the Crusader tally.

Because of S.S.C's previous deadlock with Aloysius, they were chosen as the favorite in the Bogalusa tilt, but the lumberjack passing attack defeated the Rocks 20-12, on November 20, in the Stanislaus Stadium.

Bogalusa scored late in the second quarter from the S.S.C. one yard line after a pass good for 30 yards. They scored twice again in the third quarter.

Ronnie Artigues made both tallies for the Rock-A-Chaws. He scored in the fourth quarter from the Lumberjacks' twelve yard line after a 39 yard drive by the Rocks. His second touchdown was preceded by beautiful running by J. E. Loiacano.

During the season, the S.S.C. eleven pitted their strength against some of the leading teams of Alabama, Florida, and Louisiana. They are to be commended for the spirit and teamwork they displayed in all their games on the gridiron, despite the fact that they were obliged to accept defeat many times.

The opposition, however, felt the persistent hard-hitting brand of ball played by the S.S.C. Rocks played throughout the season, but the Rock-A-Chaws failed to capitalize on their opponents weaknesses.

Tiny Rocks Defeat Bay High Tigers 7-0 As Season Closes

Brothers Edward and Roger's Tiny Rocks outscored Bay High's feather weight team 7-0 at S.S.C. Stadium on November 4 in front of enthusiastic fans.

The Tiny Rocks threatened to score three times throughout the game but were stopped by fumbling and pass interceptions. Bay High also neared the Rock's goal, but the stout opposition held them off.

The Tigers led in the first half, statistically, but, the Tiny Rocks improved their ball handling in the second half to give them the final edge.

The game's only touchdown came late in the fourth quarter when the Rocks recovered a Bay High fumble, and took over from the Tigers' fifteen yard line. After two yards to go for a touchdown, Rhodes barged over the left side for six points and followed with the extra point run.

With seconds to go, a Tiny Rock intercepted a Tiger pass to end the ball game.

SSC Cagers Open '60 Season Against Many Staunch Foes

Basketball is here again, and the mainstays of last year's junior team are now playing varsity ball.

The competition this year will be stiff, but the S.S.C. cagers will live up to their reputation of being a good ball team under the competent guidance of Coach Wayne Dugas.

The Rocks have two experienced centers in Pat Mashburn, 6'2", 190 lbs; and Terry Ladner, 6'2", 180 lbs.; and veteran ball handlers Luis Ingls, Carlos Lam, E. J. Babin, and Ronnie Artigus.

For the first time in recent years, S.S.C. will be the scene of a tournament—The S.S.C. All Catholic Tournament.

The Rocks also play Jesuit High and Aloysius High of New Orleans, for the first time in several years.
